

Disability Advocacy

- Are you living with disability and feel you are not being treated fairly?
- Are you worried about the services you receive through the NDIS or from others?
- Are you finding it hard to get help for your disability?

Our advocates are here to help you uphold your rights

ADA Australia is a provider under the Queensland Disability
Advocacy Program and the National Disability Advocacy
Program

Our advocates can:

- Talk to you and provide information in your language
- Help you with accessing disability services including the NDIS
- Help you to work through issues with your services
- Help you with unfair treatment and disability discrimination

Our services are:

- Free
- Directed by you
- Confidential and independent
- Available to you and your family or carers

We can help you if you live in the Redlands, Logan, Beenleigh, Gold Coast or Central Queensland regions.
